

MATHS HANGOUT

MATHS HANGOUT HAS MOVED ONLINE!

Due to current circumstances we have been unable to run our annual Easter revision programme—Maths Hangout. To ensure students do not miss out, Lecturers at the University of Wolverhampton have prepared an online maths course where you can practise and test your maths skills so that you don't forget them before normal classes resume.

The online course is aimed at GCSE students who were planning on taking their exams this year and consists of eleven sections.

The course is self paced which means that you can do it in your own time. Each section includes a short video, a handout, and a quiz so that you can test your understanding.

You can do each quiz as many times as you like and you'll find out your score immediately after each attempt.

You can contact us by email if you have any questions: aspiretohe@wlv.ac.uk

MATHS HANGOUT

HOW TO JOIN

- 1 Click the yellow button above to access Maths Hangout—it is hosted on Canvas, a virtual learning environment used by current students at the University of Wolverhampton! On the home page you'll need to click the green 'Register Here' square.
- 2 Complete the registration survey (it's just one question, asking which school or college you attend) and click submit quiz to move on. You should then reach the course discussion page, just click next here to access your first Maths Hangout section!
- 3 Start each section by watching the video—it is delivered by a Lecturer from the University of Wolverhampton! You can then work through the rest of the page and take the quiz to help you practice what you've learnt for each topic in the section.
- 4 Once you have submitted your quiz you will receive your score, and the answers. You can retake each quiz as many times as you want, and Canvas will tell you how much time you spent completing the quiz.
- 5 Use the 'Home' and 'Modules' buttons on the left hand side to move between different sections of Maths Hangout.
- 6 Keep a log of which sections you have completed, and your scores for each quiz. Unfortunately Canvas cannot save your progress, so if you leave the course and revisit at another time your scores will not be saved. Contact us if you have any questions about Maths Hangout: aspiretohe@wlv.ac.uk